We all know the significance of the slogan "shop early for Christmas."
This saying might well be changed into "shop now if you want a new car next spring." The year just closing has been the greatest that the nutomobile industry has ever known and the season is just about half over. Buying an automobile is not like purchasing a necktie or a shirt by simply welling in and picking out what chasing a necktie or a shirt by simply walking in and picking out what suits your fancy, paying for it and taking it with you. While all of the dealers try to keep at least a few machines on hand for immediate delivery, it has been a very hard job this year. They have had orders for cars as fast as they arrived from the factory and in some cases have been polis and Ch factory and, in some cases, have been compelled to refund the deposits of them just received or will receive sevfactory and, in some cases, have been what they will be when the sun begins to creep up in the sky and the days get warm. The average man who contemplates purchasing a car has an idea now of what he wants or, at least, of about what will suit his requirements. Let this man play it safe and make his selections now, put up a deposit and set his delivery date for something along in the spring about the time that he thinks that he will need the machine. By adopting this plan he will not only add to his own comfort and satisfaction by having the machine when he wants it, but he will also aid his dealer, for
